

WCEC In the News

The WCEC's presence is becoming more widely known! There have recently been several articles and other media coverage of WCEC and its technologies, partnerships, and programs.

October 2008: An article in Indoor Comfort News Magazine about the Western Cooling Challenge.

October 2008: An article in the Sacramento Business Journal about the "Wickool" condensate evaporator system in early development.

July 2008: A Sacramento NPR station interview with Mark Modera, along with several WCEC affiliates, about AquaChill, the water cooled condenser introduced by Beutler.